

Good morning, my name is Angélica Alzate, software analysis and development student, identification number 2547384.

I am recording this audio for evidence of English, instructor Ruth Jaramillo.

I have to get up at 5:30 a.m. I must take a pill every morning, I should get up with a positive attitude to carry out all the tasks as a housewife and the mother of a son on the autism spectrum, who is in sixth grade, I have to prepare him and then take him to school on Monday at Friday, I got up earlier on Saturday because I had to work on my weekend business.

My obligations as a student are to read the study material, I must do the homework, participate in online sessions, I must do group work and I should deliver them on time on the platform. We must work on the final project as a team to get a good software product.

I believe that working hard should reach the goal.
